Yo el Rey, etc. etc. etc. etc. etc. etc. etc.

Handwritten text in a dense, cursive script, appearing to be a legal or administrative document. The text is written in black ink on aged paper. It begins with a large initial 'Y' and continues with many lines of text, some of which are heavily scribbled or crossed out. The script is characteristic of the 15th or 16th century. There are several large, decorative initials and some lines that appear to be headings or sub-sections. The overall appearance is that of a historical manuscript or a collection of related documents.
