

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely Latin or Spanish. The text is written on aged, yellowed paper with some staining. The words are difficult to decipher due to the cursive style and fading, but appear to include phrases like "de la villa de...", "señalada...", and "por el...".

Handwritten signature or name, possibly "Juan de..." followed by a flourish.

