

~~Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or letter. The text is written in a dark ink on aged, yellowed paper. It begins with a large, decorative initial 'M' and contains several lines of text, some of which are crossed out or heavily scribbled over. The script is dense and characteristic of the late 15th or early 16th century. The document appears to be a formal communication, possibly a royal decree or a letter of appointment, given the use of the word 'Mandato' (Mandate) visible in the text.~~

~~Handwritten flourish or signature at the bottom of the page.~~
