

Handwritten flourish or initial at the top of the page.

[The page contains several lines of extremely faint, mirrored handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side. The text is illegible due to its lightness and the texture of the paper. Discernible words include 'Sicut', 'Sicut', 'Sicut', and 'Sicut' appearing multiple times in different sections of the page.]

