

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a medieval manuscript. The text is dense and covers most of the upper half of the page. Some words are partially obscured by a dark stain on the right side.

Peste.

180

Handwritten text in a cursive script, continuing from the previous page. It begins with a large initial letter 'M' and contains several lines of text.

