SEGUNDO ARTO. DIEZ MARAVES
DE MIL Y SEISCIENTOS
Y CINCUENTA Y SEIS.

[The main body of the document is filled with dense, handwritten text in a cursive script. The text is largely illegible due to fading and overlapping. It appears to be a legal or administrative document, possibly a contract or a record of a transaction. The handwriting is consistent throughout, suggesting it was written by a single scribe. The text is arranged in several columns, with some lines being longer than others. There are some larger, more prominent words or phrases that stand out, but they are difficult to decipher. The overall appearance is that of an old, well-used manuscript.]
