[Handwritten text in a highly decorative, cursive script. The text is dense and spans most of the page. It appears to be a formal document or a record of a specific event, possibly related to the date mentioned in the header. The script is very ornate and difficult to decipher word-for-word, but it follows a structured format typical of historical legal or administrative documents.]

[Handwritten text in a cursive script, continuing from the previous section. It includes some words that are more legible, such as 'Saudo' on the left margin and 'Saudo' at the start of a line. The text continues to be dense and written in the same decorative style as the upper section.]
