

Handwritten text at the top of the page, possibly a title or header, written in a cursive script.

Main body of handwritten text in cursive script, covering most of the page. The text is dense and appears to be a continuous narrative or record.

