

A circular, heavily worn and stained metal object, possibly a coin or medallion. It features a central emblem, likely a cross or a similar religious symbol, surrounded by a decorative border. The surface is covered in numerous small pits, scratches, and larger brown stains, indicating significant age and use. The overall appearance is that of an ancient or historical artifact.

Laram.