

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a list or index, running vertically down the left margin. The text is partially obscured by the binding and includes various characters and numbers.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a list or index, running vertically down the right margin. The text is partially obscured by the binding and includes various characters and numbers.

A large, stylized handwritten mark or signature, possibly a flourish or a specific symbol, located at the bottom center of the page.