

Handwritten text at the top of the page, possibly a title or header, including the year 1797.

Main body of handwritten text, appearing to be a list or account with several lines of entries.

Handwritten text in the middle of the page, possibly a signature or a specific entry.

