

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a legal or administrative document. The text is organized into several horizontal sections, each starting with a large initial letter. The script is dense and characteristic of the late 15th or early 16th century.

Vertical marginal notes on the right side of the page, including the words "r her", "2", and "in her vij".

A block of handwritten text, possibly a signature or a specific clause, enclosed in a simple rectangular border.

Vertical marginal notes to the right of the boxed text, including "yl or xl" and "re".

Another block of handwritten text, continuing the document's content, with some lines appearing to be part of a list or a series of points.

A final block of handwritten text at the bottom of the page, similar in style to the other sections, possibly concluding the document.

Vertical marginal notes on the right side of the lower section, including "r her", "u her u", "m he", "r her m", "r ee u", and "ee m".
