

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely a Latin manuscript. The text is written in a dense, cursive hand with many flourishes and is organized into approximately 25 horizontal lines. The ink is dark brown on aged, slightly yellowed parchment. The script is characteristic of the late 14th or early 15th century. The text is mostly illegible due to the cursive style and fading, but some words like "papa", "sanctus", and "in" are partially discernible. The lines are closely spaced, and there are some larger, more decorative initials or markers at the beginning of certain sections.
