

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a letter or document. The text is written in dark ink on aged, yellowish paper. It begins with a large initial 'M' and contains several lines of text, some of which are underlined. The script is dense and somewhat difficult to decipher due to its cursive nature and the age of the document. There are some large, circular scribbles or marks on the left side of the page, possibly indicating where a seal or stamp was once located.

Handwritten text on the left side of the page, possibly a signature or a reference. It includes the word 'Goberto' and some other illegible characters.

A second section of handwritten text at the bottom of the page. This section is more fragmented and includes several lines of text that are partially obscured or difficult to read. It appears to be a continuation or a separate part of the document above. There are some large, circular scribbles on the left side of this section, similar to those in the upper section.
