H. p. 10

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a medieval manuscript. The text is dense and occupies the upper right portion of the page. It appears to be a continuation of a letter or a document, with some words being difficult to decipher due to the cursive style.

H. 10

Handwritten text in a cursive script, continuing the text from the previous block. It features similar calligraphic flourishes and is written in the same hand.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, appearing as a separate line or a short paragraph. It is written in the same hand as the other text on the page.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, another line or short paragraph. The script is consistent with the rest of the document.

Handwritten text on the left margin, possibly a reference or a note. It is written in a cursive hand, matching the main text.

Large block of handwritten text in a cursive script, occupying the lower right portion of the page. It appears to be the main body of a letter or document, with various flourishes and a clear, though cursive, hand.
