

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely Latin or Old English, written in dark ink. The text is arranged in several lines, with some words appearing to be underlined or written in a larger hand. The script is dense and characteristic of the late Middle Ages.

Faint, illegible handwritten text, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The script is very light and difficult to decipher.

Very faint handwritten text at the bottom of the page, appearing as light grey or brownish marks. Some characters are barely visible.
