

Handwritten text at the top of the page, partially obscured by white tape. The script is a historical cursive, likely from the 15th or 16th century. The text is written on aged, brown paper.

Handwritten text block, second from the top. It begins with a large initial letter, possibly 'D'. The text is written in a dense, cursive hand.

Handwritten text block, third from the top. It continues the narrative or list of items in the same cursive script. There are some large, decorative initials.

Handwritten text block, fourth from the top. The text is somewhat more spaced out than the previous blocks, possibly indicating a change in the subject matter.

Handwritten text block, fifth from the top. It appears to be the final section of text on this page, ending with a large, decorative flourish.

