

Handwritten text at the top of the page, including a signature that appears to be "Diego de Salazar" and other illegible cursive script.

Handwritten text in the middle section, possibly a list or a set of instructions, with some words like "mte" and "mte" visible.

Extensive handwritten text covering the lower two-thirds of the page, including several large, decorative flourishes and illegible cursive script.

