

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or letter. The text is written in a dark ink on aged, yellowed paper. It consists of several lines of text, with some words appearing to be underlined or written in a slightly larger hand. The script is dense and characteristic of the late 15th or early 16th century.

Vertical handwritten text on the left margin, written in the same cursive script as the main body of the document. It appears to be a list or a series of notes related to the main text.

A large, prominent signature or name written in a highly stylized, cursive script, possibly indicating the author or a recipient of the document.

