

Handwritten text in a cursive script, possibly a letter or a record. The text is written on aged, stained paper. The words are difficult to decipher due to the cursive style and the condition of the document. Some legible fragments include 'm... d... v... d... l... b...'. The text is arranged in several lines, with some lines starting with a large initial letter.

Handwritten text, possibly a signature or a specific heading. It appears to be a single line or two lines of text, written in the same cursive script as the main body of the document.

Handwritten notes or a signature on the left margin. The text is written vertically and is partially obscured by the main body of the document. It appears to be a name or a set of initials.

Handwritten notes or a signature on the left margin, located lower down than the previous block. It is also written vertically and is partially obscured.
