Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or letter. The text is written in a dark ink on aged, yellowed paper. It appears to be a formal or legal document, possibly a contract or a record of a transaction. The words are difficult to decipher due to the cursive style and some fading.

Handwritten signatures and names in cursive script. The names are written in a highly stylized, flowing cursive. The names appear to be: "Elihu", "Herrick", "E. Bartlett", "Pawley", "J. P. Schizas", and "A. B. Burt".

Large, decorative handwritten flourish or signature. It consists of several large, sweeping loops and curves, characteristic of 18th or 19th-century calligraphy. The text within the flourish is mostly illegible due to the style and fading.
