

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely Latin. The text is written in a cursive hand with some flourishes. It appears to be a heading or a specific address.

Main body of handwritten text in a medieval script. The text is arranged in several lines, with some words underlined or written in a larger hand for emphasis. It appears to be a formal letter or a legal document.
