

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is written in a dark ink on aged, yellowed paper. It consists of several lines of text, with some words underlined. The script is dense and characteristic of the late 15th or early 16th century.

Handwritten marginal notes on the left side of the page. The notes are written in a smaller, more compact cursive script. Some of the visible words include "solus", "am", "de", and "s".

Continuation of the main handwritten text, starting with a large initial letter 'X'. The text continues in the same cursive script as the top section, with some words underlined. The handwriting is consistent throughout the page.
