

* St. Peter's Church at Rome is the center of the Christian World and the seat of the Papacy itself is the center of the Church and the center of the Christian World is the center of the Church and the center of the Church is the center of the Christian World and the center of the Christian World is the center of the Church
and the center of the Church is the center of the Christian World

St. Peter's Church is the center of the Christian World and the center of the Church is the center of the Christian World
and the center of the Christian World is the center of the Church and the center of the Church is the center of the Christian World
and the center of the Christian World is the center of the Church
and the center of the Church is the center of the Christian World

St. Peter's Church is the center of the Christian World
and the center of the Church is the center of the Christian World
and the center of the Christian World is the center of the Church
and the center of the Church is the center of the Christian World

St. Peter's Church is the center of the Christian World
and the center of the Church is the center of the Christian World
and the center of the Christian World is the center of the Church and the center of the Church is the center of the Christian World

