

Under the great and noble King of England the King of France and the King of Castile

By the King's Letters under the Great Seal of England bearing date the first day of the month of June in the first year of the said King's Majesty the King's Majesty hath given unto the said King of France and the King of Castile his full power sole privilege and authority that the said King of France and the King of Castile should and lawfully might and lawfully should send and cause to be sent into the Kingdom of England and into every part thereof such and so many of his Majesty's Letters as they should think convenient for the better ordering and governing of the said Kingdom of England and of every part thereof in such and such manner as they should think good and lawful in that behalf to be done

Witness our hand at London the first day of June in the first year of our said Majesty's reign

Richard
King of Castile

By the King's Letters under the Great Seal of England
bearing date the first day of the month of June
in the first year of the said King's Majesty
the King's Majesty hath given unto the said
King of France and the King of Castile
his full power sole privilege and authority
that the said King of France and the King of Castile
should and lawfully might and lawfully should
send and cause to be sent into the Kingdom of England
and into every part thereof such and so many
of his Majesty's Letters as they should think
convenient for the better ordering and
governing of the said Kingdom of England
and of every part thereof in such and such
manner as they should think good and lawful
in that behalf to be done

