

Handwritten text at the top of the page, including a signature that appears to be "Johann" followed by several lines of cursive script.

Three distinct signatures in the middle section: "Alm", "F. J. P. & Co.", and "L. J. P. & Co.". Each signature is written in a highly stylized, flowing cursive hand.

A large, complex scribble or signature in the lower half of the page, featuring overlapping loops and lines that obscure the text underneath. The word "London" is faintly visible within the scribble.

