

Handwritten text at the top of the page, possibly a title or header, including the word "Ustet" on the right.

First main block of dense handwritten text, written in a cursive script. It contains several lines of text, some of which are partially obscured by white repair patches.

Second block of handwritten text, appearing as a separate section or a continuation of the first. It includes a small checkmark at the bottom right.

Large block of handwritten text occupying the lower two-thirds of the page. It is highly dense and contains numerous white repair patches of varying sizes, indicating significant damage to the original document.

