

Handwritten text at the top of the page, possibly a title or header, including the word "Liber" and some illegible characters.

Main body of handwritten text, consisting of several lines of dense script in a historical cursive hand.

Final section of handwritten text at the bottom of the page, possibly a signature or a concluding note.

