

Heavenly and earthly things never agree of no one

For a while the oblique nature of the world is the source of the error of the human mind and the cause of the error of the
worldly man

For the world is the source of
the error of the human mind
and the cause of the error of the

For the world is the source of
and the cause of the error of the

For the world is the source of

For the world is the source of
