

The first part of the document is a handwritten note or receipt. It begins with "The first part of the document" and continues with several lines of text, including "caballos de la Real Armada de Indias" and "seis reales de acaudalamiento". The text is written in a cursive hand and ends with a signature that appears to be "Alonso Mateo" and a date "15 de Mayo de 1562".

The second part of the document is another handwritten note, starting with "The second part of the document" and mentioning "a cargo de su mayordomía". It also includes a signature and a date, similar to the first part.

The main body of the document is a formal record or decree. It begins with "Dece puer de los susodicho en la..." and describes a situation involving a group of men, including "Diego Mateo de Guenara" and "Pedro Navarro de la Cruz". The text details their status, possibly as soldiers or prisoners, and mentions "la lista de los cuarenta soldados" and "en las galeras". It also refers to "la Real Cédula de la Junta" and "la Real Cédula de la Junta de Indias". The document concludes with a signature and a date, "15 de Mayo de 1562".

The final part of the document is a handwritten signature and date, "Alonso Mateo" and "15 de Mayo de 1562", which appears to be a confirmation or signature of the main text.

