

Abba qum... (The first block of text is written in a dense, cursive script, likely a medieval or early modern manuscript. It begins with the word 'Abba' and contains several lines of text, including what appears to be a reference to 'Columbus' and 'Cristobal Colon'.)

... (The second block of text continues the narrative or list. It includes phrases like 'Cristobal Colon' and 'Columbus', suggesting a historical or geographical context. The handwriting is consistent with the first block.)

... (The third block of text is the final section on the page. It contains further details in the same cursive script, with some lines appearing to be part of a list or a specific account.)
