

The original document is written in a highly cursive, handwritten script, likely a form of shorthand or a very fast cursive. The text is arranged in several lines, with some words appearing to be repeated or written in a specific sequence. The ink is dark, and the paper shows signs of age and wear.

The lower portion of the page features a large, stylized signature or set of initials. The signature is written in a bold, flowing cursive style. To the right of the signature, there are several lines of text, including the words "form of grade" and "at [unclear]".

The bottom half of the page is filled with extremely faint, illegible handwriting. This text appears to be bleed-through from the reverse side of the page or a very light second draft. The characters are difficult to discern but seem to follow a similar cursive pattern to the main text above.
