

Handwritten text at the top of the page, appearing to be a header or title in a cursive script.

Handwritten text in the middle section, possibly a main body of text or a list of entries.

Extensive handwritten text covering the lower two-thirds of the page, appearing as a continuous block of text.

