

and the following were
the most prominent
and interesting features
of the meeting.
The first was the introduction of
the Rev. Dr. C. H. Spofford, of Boston, who had been invited
to speak on the subject of "The Christian Life."
He spoke for about
an hour and a half,
and his address
was received with the greatest interest
and attention by
the audience.
The second feature
of the meeting
was the singing
of hymns, which was done in a
very musical and
spiritual manner.
The third feature
was the offering
of money, which
was collected
in a large sum.
The fourth feature
was the distribution
of tracts and
other literature,
which was done
in a very systematic
and effective manner.
The fifth feature
was the closing
service, which was conducted
in a solemn and
spiritual manner,
with much prayer
and meditation.
