and the people of the country were very much annoyed by the strangers and their continual coming and going. and many persons were still in the neighbourhood of the city when they heard that the people who had come from the country had now changed their minds and would not return to their former homes again and so far as I could learn the people who had been sent to bring back the strangers had done their duty so well that the strangers had been compelled to go back to their native land again and were now in the
