

En esta villa de Madrid a diez y siete dias del mes de Mayo de mil y seiscientos y setenta y tres años.

[The main body of the document contains several paragraphs of handwritten text in Spanish, which is mirrored upside down on the reverse side of the page. The text is largely illegible due to the cursive script and the bleed-through from the other side.]

[The bottom section of the page contains several large, stylized signatures and handwritten notes, including the name 'Juan de...' and other illegible names.]
