

Handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is mirrored and difficult to decipher due to its orientation and fading.

1810

Handwritten text at the bottom of the page, possibly a signature or a date.

