

Handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is written in a cursive script and is mostly illegible due to fading and the angle of the page. Some words are difficult to decipher but appear to include "de", "en", and "por".

Antonio José
1870

Handwritten text at the bottom of the page, possibly a signature or a date, which is mostly illegible.

