

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or letter. The text is dense and spans most of the page. It appears to be a formal communication, possibly a decree or a report, given the use of capital letters and the structured nature of the lines. The ink is dark, and the paper shows signs of age and wear.

Handwritten text, possibly a signature or a specific section of the document. It includes some legible words like "mandatum" and "deca".
