

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or letter. The text is written in a dark ink on aged, slightly yellowed paper. It begins with a large, decorative initial letter, possibly 'D' or 'Dn', followed by several lines of dense, flowing script. The handwriting is characteristic of the late 15th or early 16th century.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, continuing from the top section. This section contains several lines of text, including what appears to be a signature or a specific heading, possibly 'Juan de...' followed by a name. The script is consistent with the top section, showing a high level of fluency and a specific regional or personal style. The text is densely packed and fills most of the page.
