

Handwritten marginal notes on the left side, including the word "quod" and other fragments.

Main handwritten text at the top of the page, starting with "In rebus ea de causa..." and continuing with dense script.

Second column of handwritten marginal notes on the left side, starting with "quod" and "quod" again.

Middle section of handwritten text, continuing the main narrative or legal argument.

Third column of handwritten marginal notes on the left side, starting with "quod" and "quod" again.

Bottom section of handwritten text, concluding the main text with a signature or final statement.