

A Great Number of

of these are the same as those which are found in the most remote parts of the world. They are all of the same kind, and are all of the same size. They are all of the same color, and are all of the same shape. They are all of the same weight, and are all of the same value. They are all of the same use, and are all of the same benefit. They are all of the same nature, and are all of the same origin. They are all of the same essence, and are all of the same substance. They are all of the same quality, and are all of the same quantity. They are all of the same virtue, and are all of the same power. They are all of the same merit, and are all of the same reward. They are all of the same grace, and are all of the same sanctification. They are all of the same glorification, and are all of the same eternity.
