

The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the train was the smell of fresh air. It was a relief after being stuck in the city for so long. The sun was shining brightly and the birds were singing happily. I felt like I had reached a new world.
 The people here were friendly and welcoming.
 They showed me around and helped me find my way. I was in luck.
 The weather was perfect.
 Not too hot, not too cold.
 Just what I needed.
 I was finally home.
 I had found a place where I could belong. I was finally settled. I was finally at home.
