

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or letter. The text is written in dark ink on aged, slightly yellowed paper. It consists of approximately 15 lines of text, with some lines starting with a horizontal line. The script is dense and difficult to decipher due to its cursive nature and the fading of the ink. The text appears to be a formal or official communication, possibly a decree or a report.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or letter. This section is located below the first block of text and contains approximately 5 lines of text. The script is consistent with the first block, suggesting it is part of the same document. The text is also dense and difficult to decipher due to its cursive nature and the fading of the ink. It appears to be a continuation of the formal or official communication.

