

A circular, heavily worn and faded seal or stamp, likely a library or archival mark. The central emblem is a shield with a crown on top, surrounded by a decorative border. The text around the border is illegible due to fading. The seal is located in the upper right corner of the page.

and

