

Handwritten text in cursive script, possibly a signature or a list of names, located in the center of the page. The text is written in dark ink and is somewhat difficult to decipher due to the cursive style and the age of the document. It appears to be a list of names, possibly including "John" and "Mary".

